Fulbright Defends Vote Record

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen.
J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., defended his voting record on farm
programs Tuesday in an address before the Arkansas
Farm Bureau Federation.
Fulbright's Republican opponent in the Nov. 5 general
election, Charles Bernard of Earle, said, however, that Fulbright had given only lip service to farm programs because
"he realized he had to be re-
elected."
"I would not have survived 24 years had I not paid
attention to the major industry
of our state—agriculture," Fulbright said in his 30-minute
presentation to the group.
Fulbright said at one point
he spent so much time talking about the poultry industry that
a national magazine referred to
him as the "chicken senator."
"Now, it's the dove senator,"
he said, in reference to his opposition to the Vietnam war.
Fulbright said he believed
farmers favored the present
cotton program, a crop he said
presented a big problem.
"It has gone down from cotton is king and it's no longer a
prince now," Fulbright said.
One should follow the advice of the people who deal in a particular area, he said.
Then, with a chuckle, he added "I know that everybody's an expert on all foreign affairs, no matter what it is."
The senator said he did not believe the farmer had shared equally in the prosperity of the nation and that as "a matter
of relative equity" they should.
Fulbright said he would not pretend to be a farmer but that he believed in taking a position
advocated by the agriculture
groups if he could find areas
where they were in agreement.
"I feel that the farmer is the forgotten American," Bernard said in his talk before the federation. "They are caught in a tight squeeze. Mr. Fulbright had given lip service to these (farm) programs because he realized he had to be re-
elected."
"I will give my whole heart
and my whole time in working
to try to solve their problems
as they relate to agriculture," Bernard said. "I'll give more than lip service."
Bernard directed most of his remarks at Fulbright and at crime in the nation, which he said was "increasing nine
times faster than the population."
The Earle businessman-farmer
read what he said were
quotes from Fulbright in 1945, 1955 and just several months
ago relating to communism,
with the senator saying he did
not believe communism represented a threat to the U.S.,
that Russia would relinquish
its control of East European countries and that the Communist movement was now a conservative force no longer a threat to the world.
Bernard said he believed Fulbright to be sincere in these

sensible to do so."
Who third party candidate
George C. Wallace will name as his running mate remained an
open question meanwhile.
A source close to Wallace said
the former Alabama governor
has decided against naming
onetime baseball commissioner
and former Kentucky Gov. A. B.
"Happy" Chandler. The source
denied Chandler's civil rights
record was involved.
Amid the candidates' cross-
fire and the question over Wallace's running mate, voters in nine states named their Republican and Democratic congressional and state candidates with Tuesday primaries. The highlights:
—Barry Goldwater's opponent
in his bid to return to the Senate
from Arizona is Roy Elson,
longtime aide of Sen. Carl Hayden who is retiring after 56
years in Congress.
—Veteran GOP Sen. George
D. Aiken, who was a shoo-in for Republican renomination,
wound up winning re-election
for all practical purposes. He won not only the GOP nomination but the Democratic nomination with write-in votes.
—Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, son and grandson of former Sens. Robert M. La Follette Jr. and Sr.,
won the Democratic nomination
to oppose incumbent Republican
Gov. Warren P. Knowles.
Other primaries were in Colorado, Maryland, Minnesota,
New Hampshire, Utah and Rhode Island.
Humphrey acknowledged that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who sought the Democratic nomination as a staunch Vietnam policy critic, "has serious problems
about the support of my candidacy."
But Humphrey said he did not believe McCarthy would want Nixon as president, or would want Wallace's third party candidacy to decide the election.
Nixon appeared in White
Plains with Gov. Nelson A.
Rockefeller, whom he defeated
for the GOP nomination, and praised suburbanites.
"There is a quiet demonstration and it doesn't make the headlines," Nixon said. "But it is this quiet demonstration of faith in the American system
that moves America forward."
Rockefeller earlier in the day
named Republican Rep. Charles B. Goodell to fill the U.S. Senate seat vacated by Sen. Robert F.
Kennedy's assassination.
The Primaries: Feature races
in nine state primaries shape

lot: Barry Goldwater vs. Roy

tor; Bronson C. La Follette

convictions but "I think he's

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller
told the federation that the major problem facing rural Americans is the change in population to urban areas.

Rules Juries Must Include More Negroes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S.
District Court Judge J. Smith
Henley said Tuesday that more Negroes must be included on future grand juries and that
the economic and social base of the jury members should be broadened substantially.
Henley, ruling on a suit filed
by 13 Pulaski County Negroes,
declared invalid the traditional
method of filling most of the positions on the Pulaski County
Grand Jury.
The jury traditionally has been filled with prominent
white business and professional men.
The suit alleged that the jury's members were not selected so as to give proper representation to Negroes, young persons and "persons employed in situations other than managerial capacities for the dominant
business interests" of the county.
Henley said that racial discrimination had been practiced
in the selection of the present
Pulaski jury and in the selection of all juries in the county
since 1953—as far back as the evidence went. There is one Negro on the present 16-member
jury.
Henley did not disturb the
present jury, whose term expires Sept. 23.
He said, however, that if future Pulaski County juries were
to withstand court attacks
"there are going to have to be
some changes made in grand jury selection."
Henley said his ruling did not mean that jury commissioners
were being required to make random selections of jurors, nor
was he ordering a departure
from the practice of selecting
persons of approved integrity
and sound judgment.
"Our grand juries ought to be made up of men and women
having those attributes," he said, "but the commissioners
should seek out such persons
from the entire body of the county and not exclusively from
among the financially successful, the influential or politically
or economically powerful, the managerial classes, the middle-
aged or any other particular group."

The bureau said nearly 13 million youths 16-to-21 year old
were in the labor force this summer, 550,000 more than last year. About 100,000 of the additional youths were unable to find work, the bureau said.
The unemployment rate for non-white workers, mostly Negroes, dropped from 6.9 to 6.2
per cent, while the rate for white workers edged down from 3.3 to 3.2 per cent.
The jobless rate for men held steady at 2.2 per cent. The rate
for women dropped from 3.9 to 3.7 per cent.

CITY DOG POUND
Editor The Star: I hope you will forgive infringement upon your time, but I feel that someone
should bring to your attention and
the attention of the taxpayers of
our town a situation that is deplorable and a slight on our city.
I have had the occasion to visit
out City Dog Pound, as recently
as last night, and I feel the conditions are deplorable and unsightly.
Any visitor with an opportunity
to see our dog pound would be nauseated.
It hasn't been cleaned, worked,
or the fifth cleaned out, for what
would seem to be a year.
The only thing that is fresh is
the cotton poison spread around
to keep down the filthy stench.
Now I know that it would take
a little expenditure of someone's
"valuable time" to clean that mess up, but I know it would take
only a few minutes a day to keep
it clean.
After all, a dog, just like you and me, is God's creature. We don't have anything to say about
our being here, any more than he does. The only difference is that we have been blessed with facilities to keep ourselves clean,
where an animal isn't so blessed.
I myself am unemployed. I am
on a disability pension from Social Security; but I feel that if the City Fathers can't cope with the situation and will allow me to clean the place up, I will, on my own time, at no charge to the city.
A city that wants to grow and
have its visitors come and leave
with a good impression should be able to care for matters such as this.
I thank you for your time and
courtesy for reading my letter.

named Dr. Clyde Hart, a Baptist minister, to head the state
Office of Economic Opportunity.

rector of race relations for the Arkansas Baptist State Convention. He is a graduate of
He succeeds Glen L. Jerm-
stad, who resigned to work for Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon.
The board is composed of six Democrats and three Republicans. Therefore, the vote favoring a delay in adoption of the agenda was 6-2 with the chairman, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, not voting.
Leon Callett, the chairman of the Democratic party, then submitted a motion to suspend a motion adopted by the commission's December meeting,
which provided that both parties
exchange lists of proposed
third members of county boards
not later than five days before
a state board meeting.
Rockefeller denied acceptance
of the motion, but was voted
down on an appeal of the decision by Purcell.
The vote on Purcell's appeal
came after a lengthy discussion
in which Odell Pollard, chairman of the state Republican party, spoke against the proposal. Pollard said the December
motion was adopted in the interest of fair play.
Speaking to the Democratic members, Pollard said, "You passed this resolution. It was your baby."
Pollard said there were 31
names on the Democratic list
that were totally acceptable to the Republicans but that the other 44 "are totally unacceptable."
Pollard said that 28 names
on the the Democratic list
were "card carrying members
of the Democratic party."
Republican Lt. Gov. Maurice
Britt then moved that the board
accept the 31 names approved
by the Republicans and let ministerial alliances in the other 44
counties select third members
in those counties.
Britt's motion was a substitute to Callett's and as it was presented, Land Commissioner
Sam Jones moved for a 10
minute recess and it was granted.

BIG BATTLE (from page one)

miles northwest of Saigon.
AP correspondent John T.
Wheeler reported from the U.S.
combat center in Tay Ninh that
a Communist defector told interrogators there were three regiments—about 7,000—in and around the city.
Wheeler reported some fire-
fights during the afternoon, but
the big battle for the city of 200,000 evidently had not yet
started. Enemy troops frequently pulled back when South Vietnamese paratroopers moved in.
Wheeler said some North Vietnamese troops coming into the city asked directions from local residents, particularly to
the big church which is the headquarters of the Cao Dai religious sect.
Some enemy troops entered
the cathedral, where hundreds
of local people had taken refuge
earlier, and a thin string of government militiamen took up positions around the big building.
The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese began pushing into the city about 1:30 a.m. under cover
of a 200-round mortar barrage.
Militia units put up only light
resistance or none at all.
Immediately after the first attacks, South Vietnamese airborne troops were dispatched
and began reaching Tay Ninh in midmorning, some by helicopter
and some by convoy up Route 22, the main road connecting Tay Ninh and Saigon. The Viet Cong mined the road in unsuccessful efforts to keep reinforcements from reaching the city.

NUMBERS ARE (from page one)

In Maine to find out the phone number, or at least the name of the sister's husband. She tried, but there was no answer.

Came I started in dialing, inserting "0" between every digit in turn. Most weren't working numbers, but I did manage to get a few people off to an irate start on the day.

When my index finger gave out Gay took over, but she, overenthusiastic with her trigger finger, made contact with so many people with far-distant area codes that the search began to get expensive.

Then she called a couple of her out-of-town schoolmates, hoping they might have some clue as to the sister's identity or whereabouts. They didn't.

Every other possibility exhausted, she put in another call to Maine. This time she got Priscilla's mother—and the right telephone number. The culprit was the first digit.

Relieved and elated, Gay dialed the proper sequence.

"I figured you'd lost my number or something," said Priscilla. "I've been trying to call you back for an hour, but your line has been busy."

Teachers in New York Accept Terms

NEW YORK (AP) — Public school teachers have voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement in their two-day strike over job security issues and begin fall term classes for 1.1-million pupils today.

A final tally of the vote showed 5,515 in favor and 218 opposed to the agreement worked out Tuesday between the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education.

Union President Albert Shanker had predicted a favorable vote telling a cheering UFT delegate assembly, "We have won on every basic issue and shown that we are the strongest organization in this fight."

The precipitating factor in the crisis, which delayed the fall term opening for two days, was the refusal of a locally governed experimental school district in Brooklyn to reinstate 10 white teachers it had dismissed.

Underlying the specific dispute was the union's fear that teachers would not be given adequate job security in the new citywide decentralization plan which is to take effect shortly.

The settlement provided that the 10 teachers could return to their former schools in the predominantly Negro-Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville district if they desired. Another 200 teachers who walked out in support of the 10 may also return.

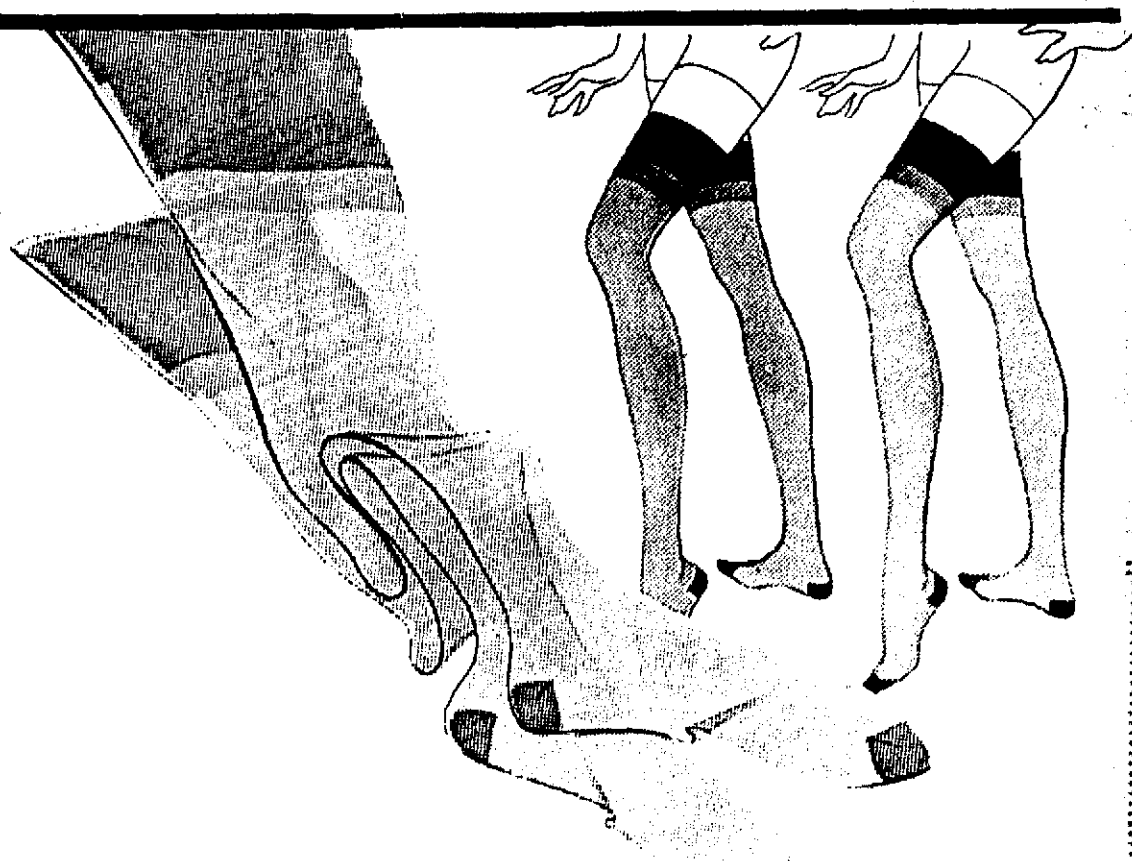

On the larger citywide issue, the union won a three-member arbitration board to which any school employee who is dismissed or disciplined by a local board may appeal.

"Beehive State" Mormon pioneers called the region known as Utah today Deseret, a term which means "honeybee" in the Book of Mormon, and is a symbol of industry and hard work, hence the nickname of "Beehive State."

Prescott Next Foe of Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

It will be a unique situation for the Hope Bobcats when they hit the field Friday night to take on the ever-tough Prescott Curley Wolves in a non-conference road game.

Many things will be at stake, and one of them will be the pride of the Hope team, which was shaken by the 14-6 setback Prescott dealt in the Bobcats' home opener last year. That marked the first time the Curley Wolves had beaten HHS on the gridiron in 33 years.

The series is one of the favorites around this area, and it has moved into near equality with the famed Nashville rivalry. Thus it really hurt for the Cats to drop this particular game last season, and they will remember that hurt come Friday evening.

Often it is relaxing to remember the glamour years of '63 and '64, and their results are quite applicable in Hope's present situation. Back then our teams knew what it was like to win; this is the all-important virtue that creates a burning hate of losing, and everyone worked cohesively to win, as the present Bobcats are trying to do.

Recall the two squads mentioned above for just a moment. Back in '63 the Bobcats dropped a tough 19-7 decision to AAA Texarkana before a full house at Hammons Stadium, and realized that they still had a long way to go. They started winning the next week, and wound up 11-1 and 4-AA champions, much to everyone's surprise.

The 1964 season was really the most exciting, though. Alan Howard was brought in from Pine Bluff as head coach, and his tough practice schedules caused players to quit in droves. By the first game at Texarkana, only 19 were left.

Those 19 absorbed a 35-6 licking from the Razorbacks, and remained the only starters even though a few more came out later. However, none of the newcomers was to see hardly any action at all.

So while nearly everyone gave up talk of another 4-AA title, Howard's hitters got down to business. They merely embarked on a nine-game winning string which carried them into the district finale at Warren needing only a tie for the title.

In one of the most exciting games this writer has ever seen, the teams fought it out after a three-inch rain had turned the Warren field into a true swamp. The Bobcats fought to a 7-0 lead, which appeared to be enough.

However, the Fighting Lumberjacks launched one final drive in the dying moments, relying on the bullying tactics of All-State fullback David McMurry. The 'Jacks drove for a touchdown with half a minute left, but still had to kick the PAT. Jerry Burnett broke through and blocked the attempt, actually breaking a Warren player's leg who fell in the way of Burnett's mad dash. Hope was offside, though, and the final try gave Warren a 7-7 tie. The 4-AA championship stayed in Hope, though, and the 19 who stayed beat Nashville a week later for a 10-1-1 year.

It was these two seasons which were the last winning ones at Hope. All this goes to show that if you really want it bad enough, you can beat anybody. Our present seniors have gone 7-14-2 as Bobcats, and the juniors are worse at 2-9-1. The sophs are now 0-1 after a 2-6 junior high season last year.

These records are not impressive by any standards, but we're going to start winning sometime, and now is as good a time as any. Prescott holds the infinitesimal advantage of being the home team this year, but the Bobcats will have a good crowd to see the game as Prescott did at Hammons Stadium last year.

Tomorrow will bring a scouting report on Prescott to this column, but last week's football edition picked the Curley Wolves to win the District 7-A crown. The report will mainly concern the Wolves opening 21-7 victory over Stamps, when the Yellowjackets were held to no first down whatsoever, their only score coming on a blocked punt late in the game.

The Bobkittens put in a fairly good practice yesterday before tapering off for their opener tomorrow night at that same Prescott stadium. The Kittens, plagued by injuries and bad w-

McLain Wins No. 29 for the Tigers

Denny McLain's 29th triumph in 1968 probably will be remembered as something less than a pitching masterpiece. But his stickwork never has been sharper.

The Detroit fireballer climbed within a single step of becoming baseball's first 30-game winner in 34 years when he hurled the American League leaders to a 7-2 victory over California Tuesday night.

McLain, 29-5, struck out 12 Angels. But he had to struggle to escape two tight jams and was tagged for nine hits in all, including a pair of sixth inning homers.

His performance with a bat in his hands was something else. The husky right-hander, batting .133 going into the game, banged out two singles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

His fourth inning single drove in two runs in a decisive four-run flurry.

"It's the first time I ever had three hits in a game," he said, "and I was all confused, running the bases."

While McLain boosted Detroit's league lead over Baltimore to 8½ games... with 15 to play... the New York Yankees continued their late surge with a 2-1, 5-0 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, Oakland trimmed Boston 5-3 and Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-2. Washington and Baltimore were rained out.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs battered the New York Mets 8-1, Los Angeles stunned St. Louis 3-0, San Francisco defeated Atlanta 4-2 and Cincinnati divided a twin bill with Houston, losing the opener 3-2 and taking the nightcap 4-3.

The Tigers staked McLain to a 6-0 lead before he faltered momentarily in the middle innings. The Angels loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but McLain got Tom Satriano on a pop up and fanned Bobby Knoop.

Ed Kirkpatrick, Vic Davalillo and Jay Johnstone stroked fifth inning singles but Detroit right fielder Jim Northrup nailed Kirkpatrick at the plate on the third hit.

The Angels finally broke the tie in the sixth when Rick Reichardt and Satriano slammed homers, but McLain finished strong as the Tigers' pennant clinching magic number dipped to six.

Charlie Smith's first homer of the season, a two-out blast in the ninth, sent the Yankees past the White Sox in the opener. Right-hander Joe Verbanic tossed a five-hitter in the nightcap for his first major league shutout as the Yanks scored five games over 500.

New York has won five in a row and 24 of its last 34 starts to move from seventh place into contention for third.

The Athletics kept their first division hopes alive by cuffing Boston's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning—two of them on Dick Green's double—and then staving off the Red Sox' late comeback.

Winner Lew Krausse allowed five hits until the ninth, when the Sox scored twice and drove him from the mound. Jack Aker protected the edge by getting the last two outs.

Tony Horton knocked in a pair of Cleveland runs with a homer and triple, then bounced into a triple play—the seventh in the majors this year—as the Indians topped the Twins behind Stan Williams.

Third baseman Rich Rollins started the triple killing by gloving Horton's tap with runners on first and second in the fifth. He stepped on third, forcing the front runner, and threw to second for another force. Rod Carew's relay to first baseman Bob Allison retired Horton, completing the bang-bang-bang play.

There which delayed the start of full-scale scrimmaging, defeated Prescott 14-0 last year in the opener.

Dodgers Again Beat Cardinals

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
"For it's one, two, three strikes you're out..." hums Don Wilson with his last ball, and he has the Cincinnati Reds swinging right along.

But you can bet the tune is not a hit with the Reds. Wilson played it for them almost two months ago—July 14—and 18 Reds went down swinging, giving Wilson a share of the major league record.

Wilson had the Reds dancing to his tune again Tuesday night as the Houston right-hander struck out 16 en route to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

But with Wilson silent in the dugout during the nightcap, the Reds made a little noise with their bats for a 4-3 triumph and a split.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have plenty of reason to sing, hit another flat note in their march to the National League pennant as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat them 3-0 for the second night in a row.

Second-place San Francisco, still nursing mini-hopes of pulling a major miracle, trimmed the Cardinals' lead to 10½ games by beating Atlanta 4-2.

The Chicago Cubs, behind Billy Williams' three home runs, blasted the New York Mets 8-1 in an afternoon contest, and Philadelphia was rained out at Pittsburgh in the other scheduled contest.

In the American League, the New York Yankees swept a two-nighter from the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and 5-0, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 6-2, Detroit and Denny McLain clobbered California 7-2 and Oakland dropped Boston 5-3. The Baltimore-Washington game was postponed by rain.

Wilson had not faced the Reds since he equalled the nine-inning strike out mark set by Bob Feller and tied twice by Sandy Koufax.

He had a little trouble getting in tune, giving up John Bench's 15th homer in the second, and after Jose Herrera's two-run double in the fifth put him ahead 3-1, he gave up another run, and had only seven strike outs in six innings. He also fanned a strong throw from left fielder Bob Aspromonte in the sixth to catch Vada Pinson at the plate.

Then he started coming in loud and clear. He fanned two in the seventh and struck out the side in the eighth and ninth to complete a six-hitter for his 13th victory against 14 losses.

The Astros relied more on their bats in the second game as Jim Wynn, Doug Rader and Norm Miller slammed solo homers, but it wasn't enough in a game delayed 47 minutes by rain. Alex Johnson won it for the Reds with a tie-breaking bases loaded, two-out single in the ninth after two walks and a hit batter by Steve Shea.

The Dodgers handed the Cardinals their sixth loss in seven games and kept the pennant clinching number at six—any combination of St. Louis victories or San Francisco losses totaling six would give the Cardinals the flag.

Bill Singer scattered nine hits and ignited a two-run burst in the third inning off Steve Carlton, 12-11, with a single to raise his record to 11-15.

San Francisco, still playing far in the background, beat the Braves on Willie McCovey's 33rd homer with two on in the third inning, against Al Santorini, making his first major league start.

Williams had the Mets holding their ears as he blasted homers in the first, sixth and seventh innings, giving him 29 this season.

Ashe Finally Lost One Tennis Match

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe finally lost a tennis match Tuesday but the United States' Davis Cup hopes got a boost anyway.

The slender Negro, winner of the first U.S. Open singles championship Monday, went down to defeat in the doubles final after a marathon semifinal match that took three days to complete.

Ashe and Spanish pro Andres Gimeno succumbed 11-9, 6-1, 7-5 to Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a pair of 21-year-olds from the University of Southern California who figure to be the U.S. doubles team in Davis Cup play.

Captains Named for First Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles Tuesday named captains for the Razorbacks' opening game Sept. 21 against Oklahoma State university.

To serve as tri-captains are defensive halfback Gary Adams of Piggott, tight end Mike Sigman of West Memphis and offensive tackle Webb Hubbell of Little Rock.

Broyles also changed the practice schedule Tuesday to only one practice a day, doing so because "we're so leg weary."

"Because of a lot of running, the legs are extremely tired," Broyles said, "cutting down to one practice will give our legs a chance to get back their bounce by the opening game."

The Razorbacks worked for two hours Tuesday afternoon in what Broyles termed a "polishing drill of offensive and defensive assignments."

The players will get a scouting report on OSU today and a game-type scrimmage that will be closed to the public will be held either Thursday or Friday.

Defensive end Tommy Dew, with a knee injury, and line-backer Mike Jacobs, with a virus, missed practice Tuesday. They are expected back today.

Broyles also acknowledged the departure of quarterback John Read, who was recruited from Lancy Junior College, Oakland, Calif.

Broyles said Read plans to enroll at College of the Pacific, which is near his home.

The other mid-semester junior college transfer, John Black, previously had left to enroll at Arizona college.

Defensive end Preston Hamilton has undergone knee surgery.

Place kicker Bill McClard put on a dazzling display Tuesday. He booted four straight 52-yard place kicks through the uprights.

Dr. Fager After Horse of Year Title

Associated Press Sports
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Tartan Stable's Dr. Fager continues his campaign for horse of the year honors today as he tries something his chief rival for the honor hasn't been able to accomplish—win on the grass.

Dr. Fager, 4-year-old son of Rough'n-Tumble, makes his first start on turf in the $100,000 Invitational United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City Race Course. He'll carry top weight of 134 pounds, spotting from 12 to 23 pounds to 10 opponents in the mile and three sixteenths event.

Braulio Baeza will be in the saddle of the early line 1-2 favorite as the sturdy thoroughbred seeks his sixth victory in seven races this year. He's already set a world record of 1:32 1-5 for the mile in winning the Aug. 24 Washington Park Handicap, and also captured the Suburban and Whitney races in New York.

Dr. Fager's career record is 16 wins in 20 races with earnings of $900,592. His chief rival for horse of the year laurels, Damascus, was invited for the UN, but his handlers turned the bid down, Damascus never has won on the grass. Although he has never run on grass, Dr. Fager has worked impressively in workouts, and his trainer Johnny Nerud is confident the horse can handle any type of racing strip.

Chief contenders to the odds on favorite in this 16th running of the UN are the 1967 grass champion Fort Marcy; More Scent, owned by Morton Rosenthal and Alfred J. Green; and Tobin Bronze, the champion from Australia who was third in last year's International at Laurel.

Others in the field are Ada L. Rice's Advocate (112), MacConn Stable's Irish Rebellion (117), Mrs. Henry Obre's New Song 2nd (113), Robert Lehman's Flit-to (115), last year's UN winner; San Marco Stable's Shooting Chant (111), Saul Nadler's Ruth's Rullah (111), and Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's Ginger Fizz (113), 5

Fort Marcy, a beaten favorite recently, carries 118 pounds and will be ridden by Jorge Velasquez, Tobin Bronze also is in at 118 with Walter Blum, while More Scent is the second top weight at 122. The winner earns $65,000 and perhaps a shot at the grass course championship, won nine times in previous years by the first horse across the finish line in this race.

Colleges Open Grid Season

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come for the everyday housewife to put her dreams away for another day... and start trying to hold the line against Saturday's heroes of the homescreen.

College Football 1968 is upon us, bearing promise of unprecedented weekend delights for armchair quarterbacks from Lafayette, Ind., to Los Angeles... and headaches for the little women.

Would you mind sharing those aspirin tablets with an itinerant pigskin picker, lady?

The opening kickoff is a week away for most major college teams. But a handful will be taking the plunge Saturday... along with this fumble-leery crystal ball-gazer.

The nationally-televised clash between Tennessee's Southeastern Conference champs and Georgia's toothy Bulldogs tops a six-game afternoon card. High-powered Houston entertains the Green Wave of Tulane in the Astro-dome in one of 10 arelight openers.

We'll put our perfect 1968 record on the line with the following selections:

Saturday Afternoon
Tennessee over Georgia: This collision of Dixie dandies was moved up one week to accommodate the television fans... and it promises to be a typical SEC free-for-all.

The Vols graduated All-American center Bob Johnson, guard John Boynton and backfield stars Dewey Warren and Charley Fulton, so Coach Dave Dickewill will rely heavily on his combative defensive troops. They should carry the day against the visiting Bulldogs, who have been barking unhappily about the synthetic turf Tennessee will unveil for the first time at Knoxville.

Nebraska over Wyoming: The Huskers are tall, starting with 6-foot-7 quarterback Frank Patrick, and tough (they led the nation in defense last year). The starting backfield on Wyoming's Sugar Bowl team is gone... and so is All-American kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster.

The Cowboys will win often anyway... but not at Lincoln. Wake Forest over North Carolina State: Upset No. 11 N.C. State's Liberty Bowl champs return most of their starters. Wake Forest had to win its last four for a 4-6 finish and Coach Bill Tate modestly describes his team as "a bunch of boys who are fun to watch."

But the hunch here is that Fred Summers, Wake's slick quarterback, will give the white-shod Wolfpack defensive whales an eyeeful of gloom... and a hotfoot... as the Deacons dedicate their brand new stadium with an Atlantic Coast Conference coup.

Iowa State over Buffalo: Last year's Big Eight have-nots are picked to defend the conference honor against the upstarts from the East and give new Coach Johnny Majors a winning send-off. Willie Muldrew's excellence at middle guard should be the difference in a tight struggle.

Utah State over New Mexico State: Take the Aggies in this one and you can't miss; both teams answer to the same nickname. We'll opt for the home-standing Utahs to reverse last year's 10-9 setback behind John Pappas' passing and the tackle play of 255-pound Phil Olsen, the brother of Los Angeles Rams' star Merlin, and 260-pound junior college transfer Mick Workman.

Also, Western Michigan over

Arkansas State

Saturday Night

Houston over Tulane: Houston's Paul Gipson, who rambled for 1,100 yards to spark the nation's No. 1 offensive machine in 1967, has shifted from fullback to halfback and added ballet lessons to his training schedule. If he doesn't tip toe through Tulane, it's a good bet that new fullback Carlos Bell, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound gift from the Cougars' great basketball team, will.

Colorado State University over New Mexico: Terry Stone, the nation's passngest quarterback, gave the Lobos a wing and a prayer... but just one victory in 10 games last year. A rebuilt New Mexico defense might give CSU wingback Larry "Lemon Juice" Jackson a squeeze or two, but the Rams should prevail in their Western Athletic Conference debut at Albuquerque.

Xavier over Miami, Ohio: The Musketeers emerged as a Midwest independent force last year with a 6-3-1 finish and could be better this fall with 30 returning lettermen, including John Shinnners, a heralded 250-pound offensive guard. Shinnners' duel with Miami linebacker Bob Balch, another top pro prospect, should be a dilly.

Toledo over Richmond: The Rockets are primed for another fast takeoff on their home paid after winning nine of 10 for a share of the 1967 Mid-American Conference crown. Halfback Roland Moss, who scored 16 touchdowns, is back to lead the thrust.

Other picks: Dayton over Kent State; Texas-El Paso over California-Santa Barbara; West Texas State over Lamar Tech; East Carolina over Parsons; Morehead State over Marshall; Furman over Miss College.

Laver Has 4th Title in Five Years

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Rod Laver has his fourth U.S. Pro Tennis Championship in five years, and fellow Australian John Newcombe thinks he should get some sort of mental telepathy title, too.

"I was beginning to believe he was reading my mind," Newcombe said after bowing to the perennial king of the pros 6-4, 6-4, 9-7 in the finals at Longwood Tuesday.

It did seem that way at times, as Laver was usually in the right spot for his patented slashing returns. The defending champion agreed his anticipation was a factor.

"I was keen and I was sharp," he said, "I was getting to the ball—and that's half the battle on grass."

Despite the straight set victory, both players agreed one key to the match lay in Laver's frequent comebacks whenever he appeared on the ropes.

The victory was a boost to the 29-year-old Laver, who has suffered a series of upset reversals recently including a loss to South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in last week's U.S. Open at Forest Hills.

Laver didn't lose a set in the long-delayed $32,000 tournament which started in June but ran into so many rain postponements that the finals had to be put off until the players could get back to this area.

Thinks U.S. to Do Well in 100 Dash

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The United States, says Jim Hines, will be 1-2-3 in the 100-meter dash at the Olympics next month in Mexico City.

The United States, says Dave Maggard, will be 1-2-3 in the shot put.

Hines, on his 22nd birthday, was buoyed by his victory Tuesday over Charlie Greene in the 100-meter dash at the Olympic track and field trials at the Echo Summit track near here.

He won in 10.0, tying the existing world record, but one-tenth off the mark he shares with Green and Ronnie Ray Smith.

Maggard was optimistic because of his 67-4/4 shot put, enough to give him second place to George Woods, 68-9/4 and to beat world record holder Randy Matson, who was third with a put of 67-1/4.

Hines, Greene and Army Capt. Mel Pender will make up the U.S. 100-meter Olympic squad, with Smith, who finished just behind Pender, on the team as an alternate and 400-meter relay runner.

Hines said he felt that the trio would sweep the medals in Mexico City and reserved the gold one for himself. The continuing battle between himself and Greene for the title of world's fastest human has yet to be totally resolved, but Hines has now won six of their 11 meetings.

In other activity Tuesday, Geoff Vanderstock of Southern California led the way into today's 400-meter intermediate hurdles (finals), by winning his semifinal heat in 49.2, just one-tenth off the world record. Tom Wyatt of Portland, Ore., won the other semi in 49.3.

Al Oerter topped the discus qualifiers with a toss of 201-6 and seven pole vaulters cleared the qualifying height of 16-0.

Tom Farrell and Wade Bell won semifinals heats at 800 meters in 1:49.6 and 1:48.0 respectively, but they will have to fight off Jim Ryan, third in his heat, in the finals today.

George Young led the 3,000-meter steeplechase qualifiers at 9:11.0.

Salb Misses Chance for Olympics

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Nev. (AP) — Karl Salb of Crossett, Ark., a freshman at Kansas University, Tuesday finished fourth in the shot put at the Olympic trials here and missed making the U.S. team.

Salb, however, moved to sixth place on the world list with a throw of 65 feet 7 1/4 inches, the best of his career.

Only five men in the world have thrown farther than Salb this year. They are Randy Matson, the current world record holder; George Woods and Dave Maggard of the United States; Heinfried Birkenback of West Germany and Dieter Hoffman of East Germany.

Nixon Working for Vote of New York GOPs

By BILL BOYARSKY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon—cheered by a friendly reception in Nelson Rockefeller's home county—is working to tighten his alliance with the New York Republicans who lead the party's liberal wing.

The Republican presidential candidate meets today with the New York governor and with Mayor John V. Lindsay and Sen. Jacob K. Javits to announce plans for the GOP campaign in the crucial state—holder of the nation's biggest bloc of presidential electors. Both Javits and Lindsay had backed Rockefeller's bid for the Republican nomination.

Later today he leaves for North Carolina.

Tuesday night, Rockefeller stood at Nixon's side and gave him his personal blessings in front of a roaring, enthusiastic crowd in a White Plains, N.Y., auditorium, not far from the Rockefeller estate in Tarrytown.

Recalling his campaign for the GOP nomination in which he promised "new leadership," Rockefeller said: "For three months this summer I stumped the country from coast to coast demanding new leadership. Well tonight I am here to welcome, on behalf of all of us in Westchester County, a man who's going to provide that new leadership."

This was the first time since the convention that Rockefeller, who had once said Nixon couldn't give that leadership, appeared with the candidate. He had, however, endorsed him, as had Javits and Lindsay.

The Westchester County Center was packed with some 5,500 persons who ignored the heat of the hall as they showered Nixon with confetti, cheered him repeatedly and crowded around trying to shake hands with him and his wife Pat.

Nixon said he has had bigger crowds, but none as enthusiastic. So eager were the people to see the candidate that a good portion of the crowd waited outside after the rally for a final glimpse of him driving away.

In his speech, Nixon brought up a major theme of his campaign—that members of the American middle class have become "the forgotten Americans."

Suburbanites, he said, form a large part of this group. He said they don't engage in demonstrations except to "demonstrate by setting an example of citizenship."

Nixon made a plea for law and order. But, as he has been doing in the past few days, he mixed it with a call for social progress.

"I know there are those who say, 'Give us more police, have stronger laws and that will solve all the problems,'" Nixon said.

"But, my friends, when people have no hope, they don't care. What we need is order with progress," Nixon noted the

Navy Loses $25 Million Worth of Helicopters

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has acknowledged the loss of about $25 million worth of unmanned helicopters once given a significant role in antisubmarine warfare.

In response to persistent inquiries, the Navy acknowledged that 233 of the small, radio-controlled drone choppers, called DASH, have been lost for various electronic, mechanical and human faults over the past seven years.

The major causes for the losses, which came in fleet operations, resulted from the failure of the DASHes aviation electronics system, the Navy said.

Under consideration now to replace the drones is a new, manned lightweight helicopter.

Four years ago, the Navy issued a "fact sheet" on antisubmarine warfare in which it listed the DASH among "significant achievements" in the field.

At that time, the fact sheet described the drone helicopter as "a precise, deliberate, long range weapon delivery capability" to complement another antisubmarine weapon, the ASROC. The ASROC is an antisubmarine missile which can be fired from Navy-surface craft and uses either an acoustic homing torpedo or depth charges.

Navy antisubmarine experts had high hopes for the DASH, which was designed to be sent out from destroyers after a "fix" was made on an enemy

Moscow Asked Not to Unleash Dogs of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, urging Moscow for the second time in two weeks not to "unleash the dogs of war," says the only way to peace in Europe is through no-holds-barred negotiations.

While urging the Soviet Union to accept earlier proposals for high-level talks on arms and troop reductions in Europe, Johnson warned that the United States never will tolerate the use or threat of force in areas of "common responsibility like Berlin."

"The use of force generates fears and passions whose consequences no man can predict or control," the chief executive told a session of the B'nai B'rith national convention Tuesday night.

"As I said the other day in San Antonio, 'Let no one unleash the dogs of war.' Europe has suffered enough in this century," he added.

Johnson's San Antonio speech Aug. 30 was the strongest he has aimed at Moscow in months and seemed to represent part of a carefully orchestrated U.S. response to the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia 10 days earlier.

The public part of that response has included cancellation of some features of the cultural sub. The DASH would be ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes or the quarry.

The helicopter was built to carry 1,000 pounds of payload.

When the Navy was asked early this summer whether it was looking for a replacement for the DASH, it said no.

But now the Navy has changed its position and says a lightweight manned helicopter is being considered to supplant the DASH.

The subject is under study out from destroyers after a determined, the Navy said.

exchange program with Russia, orders that work proceed on missile development and defense to improve any U.S. negotiating position, and some Johnson comments at a news conference that the United States remains "very concerned" over Soviet actions in Eastern Europe.

The B'nai B'rith speech, his second of the day to dwell on foreign policy and the quest for peace, appeared to be more of the same rather than being prompted by any fresh Soviet actions.

But, Johnson told his enthusiastic audience, the Czech invasion has given rise to "new military and political risks . . . which demand even closer cooperation among Western allies."

Referring to earlier U.S. proposals for talks with Russia, Johnson said "In the discussion we have proposed for the reduction of tension in Europe no topic would be barred. These proposals represent the only sound approach to the problem of peace and security in Europe."

Johnson drew applause 28 times in the speech that covered unrest in East Europe and tension in the Mideast. Some of the response was mild, but much of it included cheers, whistles and the clanking of silverware on glasses.

Judge Declares Loan Firm Insolvent

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge John E. Miller Tuesday declared Arkansas Loan and Thrift Corp. and Savings Guaranty Corp. insolvent.

Miller ordered collection of all debts owed to ALT and its affiliate, SGC, and that the firms' assets be sold to begin payment to more than 2,000 depositors of the companies.

The company listed assets at $1,095,335 and liabilities at $4,268,643.

Miller said there would not be enough assets to fully pay claims against the two firms, but he was told that all but three officers or directors of the firms had stipulated they would use personal assets to try to make up the difference between what the firm can pay and what it owes.

The companies didn't contest Miller's order. The trustees of the surety company SGC of Booneville dropped a request at the outset of the hearing that it be made the receiver for ALT after seeing an audit of ALT that was filed Monday.

Miller placed ALT in receivership last March 13, two days after the Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit against ALT, SGC, The United Loan and Investment Co., and Ernest A. Bartlett Jr., Hoyt Borum and Alton Borum, officers of ALT. Lem Bryan of Fort Smith was named receiver.

Although United Loan was named in the suit, Miller said it was a nonentity. He said ALT bought it out and used its name in ALT's operation.

An audit of ALT, made by J. L. Swafford and Co. of Fort Smith, indicated that both companies were operated mainly for the benefit of the officers and directors without much regard for the investors.

ALT was formed in 1964 with several prominent political figures among its incorporators and other politicians figuring in subsequent transactions.

Until Dec. 1, former Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of El Dorado, former state Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perryville, state Rep. Chadd L. Durrett of El Dorado and Claude Carpenter Jr. of Little Rock, crop up in the records of ALT.

Investigations in Louisiana into the dealings of a sister company, Louisiana Loan and Thrift, have disclosed entanglements involving Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlillon and Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen. Conflict of interest questions have been raised concerning Gremlillon's role in Louisiana Loan and Thrift.

former governor who inherited a political machine fashioned by his father, the red-suspender-snapping Eugene Talmadge who won the governor's chair four times in the 1930s and 1940s.

His late father was an outspoken advocate of segregation, and when his son became governor two years after his death in 1946, he also became widely known as a proponent of white supremacy and a harsh critic of Supreme Court desegregation decisions.

Talmadge's stance on race has been softened in his speeches and comments during the dozen years in Washington and he appeared occasionally before Negro and integrated groups.

But Jackson's candidacy has revived the issue. As late as the eve of the election, Jackson, a political newcomer charged that an attempt was being made to draw racial lines in the contest.

His charge stemmed from a newspaper advertisement by Talmadge supporters telling voters it was "urgent" for them to vote in the primary to prevent "a minority candidate with a small but organized bloc of voters" from defeating the senator.

Jackson has criss-crossed the state, criticizing Talmadge's voting record in the Senate and repeatedly challenging the senator to debate him.

Virginia City

Set at a respectable distance north of town, the old cemetery reflects the general atmosphere of the ghost town. Old gravesites, some with faded wooden markers, are steeped in history of a bygone era. It was in Virginia City, in 1863, that Samuel Clemens
became Mark Twain while reporting for the Territorial Enterprise, which is still being published.

Devotees of western history agree that Virginia
City, Nev., is the most celebrated and lively
ghost town in the world.
Founded in 1859 on the site of the Comstock
Lode, the most specu-
lar gold and silver discovery in the United States,
the town had a population of 30,000 persons by 1862. After producing nearly $750 million worth
of valuable metal, the mines petered out and
the city became a ghost
town. Today only 500
persons live in Virginia
City, but more than 500-
000 tourists annually
visit the authentic old
town located between Reno and Carson City.

Harmless Hobby Has Its Hazards

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Many famous and not-so-
famous persons turn to painting for relaxation. It is more creative than fishing and can be done indoors as well as out.
Even so apparently harmless
a hobby as this, however, is not without certain hazards.
All the traditional media, such
as oil, water color and egg

tempera, use pigments which
may contain arsenic, lead,
cadmium, chromium or mercury. The molding of the brush tip with one's lips, although universally frowned
on, is a dangerous habit that
is still observed in some old-
timers and may be imitated
by some young admirers.

The U.S. Department of Commerce has published
standards for voluntary compliance by manufacturers of paints but some painters still prefer to grind their own pigments. These can be handled safely if the artist takes the precaution to avoid inhaling
the dust and to clean his hands and fingernails when
the grinding is completed.
While painting, he should be careful not to stroke his lips
with paint-splashed hands.

Modern technology has devised new and popular synthetic media for the painter's

The summer national championships of the American Contract Bridge League
have just been held in Minneapolis. As a preliminary event
a team representing the Twin Cities played a 72-board match with IMP scoring. The match was an exact tie with Montreal after the 72 boards
and Minneapolis won by four IMPs in an eight-board playoff.

Montreal had the better of
game and part score hands
but Minneapolis gained enough
to win by the right slam contracts.

The bidding, rather than the
play, is important in today's hand. South has no trouble
picking up the queen of
trumps at a heart contract.
The club finesse works for
him also but the diamond ace
is behind dummy's king so
that he has to lose two diamond tricks.

The first three bids were
the same at both tables. Minneapolis expert Dave Clarran,
the old-timer of the team,
chose three hearts as his re-
bid over Larry Oakey's two spades. Larry continued to four hearts and there was considerable trepidation among
the home town crowd while Dave thought. He thought but

Out of Focus:
Unfortunate State
Court Decision

"You look like your passport picture, you aren't well enough to travel."

The State Election Commission convenes today in what is likely to be an interminable and frustrating session — all because of an unfortunate decision by the Arkansas Supreme Court only last month.

The job before the Little Rock meeting is the naming of the third member of the county election commission in each of the state's 75 counties — a formidable task at best, but complicated by a deep-seated political quarrel which was only made worse by a partisan decision in the supreme court.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller argued that as the majority party in the state the Republicans had the right to demand acceptance of their slate for the third-man position. But the supreme court held this was not so — that it would be legal merely to name the third member as "representing the Republican party" — not necessarily the Republican of the governor's choice, not necessarily a Republican at all.

The Arkansas Supreme Court stands convicted of making a partisan maneuver on words and flagrantly violating the people's notion of political fair play. A Democratic court handed down an arbitrary decision favoring the traditional establishment in an effort to avoid a defeat this November such as the one it experienced when Republican Rockefeller was elected two years ago.

Ours is strictly an objective view, pointing out what an outcry there would have been had the court been Republican and issued a similar edict giving complete election control to the party of its own faith. It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways — and an objective editor is bound to say so.

Nominally your editor is a registered Democrat, and was so in Pennsylvania before moving to Arkansas 45 years ago, I supported Rockefeller two years ago, and probably will again in November.

But on principle and merit — not on party label or political maneuver. Even if we go for Rockefeller this second time we give notice here and now we will oppose his announced proposal to seek a state-wide bond issue. Between Rockefeller and his Democratic opponent this is a moot issue. Former Gov. Orval Faubus also proposed a bond issue, Mr. Crank helped work it up in the General Assembly of which he was a veteran member, but the bond issue was badly beaten — and we'll oppose it again no matter who is governor, Republican or Democrat.

Ministers to Name Third Board Member

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Election Commissioners agreed today to allow ministers to nominate the third member of county boards of election commissioners.

The move came after Republicans on the state board stated that 31 names suggested by the Democrats were satisfactory to the GOP, but that 44 others were totally unacceptable.

The GOP members, outnumbered 6-3 by Democrats on the board, suggested that ministerial alliances and ministers in counties where no alliance existed determine the third members from the 44 additional counties.

At this point, a 10-minute recess was granted, at which time the Democrats decided to recommend that ministers nominate third members in all 75 counties.

The decision was unanimous. The board will meet again next Monday at 10 a.m. to certify the nominees named by the ministers. The ministers have been asked to name only one person to each county board.

Hopes Dim for Release of Pueblo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for quick release of the USS Pueblo, feeding on widespread rumors for a week, have been shattered by U.S. statements that North Korea is seeking more than just American apologies.

"It is my understanding," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday, "they have asked for a good many things including commitments about further action that would involve the high seas in the Sea of Japan."

Rusk commented on leaving a closed session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. At about the same time the State Department was releasing a carefully worded statement on the U.S. position.

Both the Rusk comments and the statement came after a week of rumors here and in Asia that North Korea might release the captured U.S. intelligence ship and its 82 crewmen in connection with North Korea's celebration of its 20th anniversary as a Communist state.

North Korea has demanded three actions from the United States in return for the ship and its crew, seized Jan. 23. These have been an admission the vessel violated North Korea's 12-mile territorial limit, an apology and a promise there would be no violations in the future.

Rusk told the House committee that there is no independent evidence whatsoever that the Pueblo violated its sailing orders which directed it to remain outside North Korea's territorial claims.

North Korea has claimed the Pueblo was within seven miles of its coastline when seized by a gunboat.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, also testifying behind closed doors on Capitol Hill, told newsmen he had nothing to indicate that the Pueblo release is imminent.

Negotiations between the United States and North Korea have been going on sporadically at Panmunjom.

Numbers Are Important Today and You Better Get Them Down Right

By JOY STILLLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Most people complain that there are too many numbers in their lives these days, but in my case one digit too few caused several complications.

Last week our daughter was spending the night out of town, attending a farewell party given in her honor before she took off for a school year away from home.

One of her friends was due to fly in from Maine the next morning to say goodbye, and we had strict orders to pick the girl up at the airport when she called to say she had arrived.

The friend called all right, so early in the morning that I wasn't quite sure who she — or — I was. It seems she had flown in the previous evening, was staying with her sister and wanted Gay to call her when she got home.

I wrote down the telephone number and crawled sleepily

Nixon Says Democrats Had Chance to End the War, Muffed It

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard M. Nixon says the Democrats "had their chance to end the war and they muffed it" and his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, says Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey is turning "squishy soft" on the Vietnam issue.

Humphrey, in the harshest assault on his Republican presidential opponent yet, questioned meanwhile Tuesday how Nixon would react under the strain of the presidency.

"Will the new coating wear off and the old substance come through?" Humphrey said in Los Angeles. "Or will the thin veneer of the most recent political cosmetic treatment remain?"

Humphrey did not name Nixon but made it clear he was referring to his opponent.

Republican vice presidential nominee Agnew said Humphrey seems to be "trying to cast himself in the role of Neville Chamberlain—peace at any price."

"Humphrey is getting pretty maleable on this (Vietnam) issue," Agnew told a Washington news conference. "He is trying to placate the forces in his party that want to disengage in Vietnam at any cost."

Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, said he would favor a North Vietnam bombing halt if there were "some indication" by North Vietnam negotiators in Paris that this would lead to substantive peace talks, and if U.S.A. troops would not be endangered.

"I think that stopping the bombing may be a valuable step toward peace," Muskie said in St. Louis, "and that we ought to be prepared to take it when it is

Revival Meeting at Falcon

A revival meeting will begin Monday, Sept. 16 at the Falcon Church of Christ with Murphy D. Phillips of Stamps preaching and Larry Nichols as song director. Services will be held each night at 7:30 o'clock and continue through September 22.

Other members of the committee, in which the controversial nomination has been stalled for over two months, also reported a disposition to act without extended delay.

But breaking the committee logjam would still leave Fortas' nomination threatened by filibuster in the Senate itself.

When Gay returned I gave her the message. But there was a problem. The number I had scribbled had only six digits instead of the required seven.

It didn't take the services of a computer for us to realize that there were thousands of possible combinations, since we didn't know just where the missing number might belong in the series.

Gay was so annoyed with me that if she hadn't been planning to leave home anyway, I think she would have decided to at that moment. Her friend had made a long trip for the express purpose of seeing her, and there wasn't much time left for them to be together.

Faced with my departing daughter's reproachful looks I generously offered her the privilege of calling Priscilla's home

Fortas Issue May Be Aired by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee agreed unanimously today to vote next Tuesday on President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The committee also, while awaiting word on whether Fortas will return for further questioning, decided to go ahead with further hearings on his nomination.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford will be invited to testify, committee members reported, and subpoenas will be issued for four other witnesses.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee may finally be moving toward breaking the log jam on President Johnson's selection of Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States.

Members, both supporters and opponents of elevating Fortas from associate justice to succeed retiring Earl Warren, are reported anxious to settle the matter.

But still to be decided is whether the committee, which meets today, should reopen testimony on the appointment. Related to that decision is whether Fortas will agree to an invitation to reappear for questioning.

If the hearings are reopened for testimony, the members were discussing limiting them to a couple of days and then voting on whether to recommend to the Senate that Fortas be confirmed.

After a day of wrangling Monday, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said "the feeling did develop that the committee should act within a fixed time."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who moved to reopen the hearings and invite Fortas to testify again, said that "nobody is trying to prevent a vote as far as I know."

Other members of the committee, in which the controversial nomination has been stalled for over two months, also reported a disposition to act without extended delay.

But breaking the committee logjam would still leave Fortas' nomination threatened by filibuster in the Senate itself.

Continued mild weather with clear skies is expected in Arkansas through Friday as a Canadian high pressure system moves southward.

No rain is in the forecast and no precipitation was measured in the 24-hour period that ended at 7:30 a.m. today. Humidity also is at a low point.

Low temperatures reported around the state early today ranged from 41 degrees at Fayetteville to 55 at Pine Bluff and Texarkana.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 75 at Harrison to 86 at Fort Smith.

Big Battle Raging North of Saigon

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged northwest of Saigon today as the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese drove deep into the city of Tay Ninh, and American forces killed 95 enemy troops in repelling a night attack on a unit of the 25th Infantry Division.

Farther northwest along the Cambodian border, North Vietnamese gunners shelled a dozen allied camps, but casualties and damage were reported light. U.S. intelligence officers foresaw no immediate attack on Saigon.

Moving under cover of a heavy mortar attack, enemy infantrymen charged the 25th Division camp 14 miles southeast of Tay Ninh. They were driven off after nearly three hours by a massive barrage from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Six Americans were reported killed and 22 wounded.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers and milliamen skirmished with hundreds of enemy soldiers who invaded Tay Ninh, a key provincial capital 45

U.S. Jobless Rate Dips to 17-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the total labor force in August, touching a 17-year low for the third time in 1968, the Labor Department said today.

The number of jobless persons declined 450,000 to 2.8 million, nearly double the expected August drop.

"The unemployment rate once again equaled the Korean war-era low reached in January, April and May of this year," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

At the same time, nonfarm payroll employment climbed 200,000 more than usual to an August high of 68.6 million. When farm workers and the self-employed are added, the nation's total of employed in August was 77.4 million.

The August job increases were largely in trade, service jobs and state and local governments.

The drop in unemployment, down from 3.7 per cent in July, largely reflected a drop in the number of women and teenagers seeking jobs, the bureau said.

A larger number of teenagers than expected left the labor force in August, either giving up summer jobs or the search for

Cotton Crop Prospects Improved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospects for the cotton crop in Arkansas have improved, according to estimates reported Tuesday.

The Agriculture Department report predicted Arkansas' cotton harvest would be 1.1 million bales, about 25,000 bales more than the previous estimate.

It indicated that the prospects for soybeans deteriorated in August so that the harvest is estimated at 86,878,000 bushels. A month earlier, the crop was estimated at 90,827,000 bushels, which was nearer last year's production of 91,747,000 bushels.

On other crops, the estimated yield per acre and production, respectively, of major crops in Arkansas included:

Corn for grain, 39 and 2,145,000; winter wheat, 25.5 and 15,682,000; soybeans for beans, 22 and 86,878,000; rice, 4,700 pound an acre and production 26,696,000 hundredweight; peaches, production only, 39 million; pecans, production only, 4,500,000; and sweet potatoes, 85 hundredweight an acre and production of 178,000 hundredweight.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 75 at Harrison to 86 at Fort Smith.

Negro-White Fights in Chicago, Area Force Closing of Schools

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Some 500 students, including whites and Negroes, gathered at the University of Illinois Student Union Tuesday night to protest a 7 p.m. closing, then left without incident.

A rampage in the Illinois union lounges Monday night resulted in the arrest of 300 Negro students on charges of mob action.

Police who made the arrests after the students refused to leave the building at closing time also confiscated such makeshift weapons as screwdrivers, metal rods and pipes, said Chief Harvey Shirley of the Chicago police.

The students and some Negro town youths said their refusal to leave the union Monday night was to protest housing arrangements and scholarship policies for Negroes in a program called Project 500.

Project 500—the special education opportunities program—is financed by the university and recruited disadvantaged youths mainly in Chicago-Urbana and nearby communities, a university spokesman said.

The protesters smashed furniture and chandeliers and mutilated 10 portraits of university presidents during a three-hour occupation of the lounges, police said. None resisted arrest, officers said.

An Illinois union official said the lounges would be closed for weeks for repairs. Police estimated damage at $50,000.

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP) — All schools remained closed in this suburb southwest of Chicago today following sporadic incidents of racial trouble triggered by a fight between Negro and white high school pupils.

Forty-one persons had been arrested since noon Tuesday. Mayor George J. Janchenko imposed a 1 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew for youths 17 and under after the first fights Tuesday involving 500 pupils at Argo Community High School. He also ordered an 11 p.m. to dawn curfew for adults.

About 30 of those arrested, police said, were charged with curfew violations.

British Plane Hijacked by Gunman

MONTREAL (AP) — A passenger with a revolver forced an Air Canada Viscount to land here Wednesday to refuse to take him to Cuba, then walked off the plane after holding two crewmen at gunpoint for more than three hours.

The gunman, identified from the passenger list as a Mr. Garvey, left accompanied by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer and the Cuban consul general in Montreal. He was taken to immigration headquarters at the airport.

The four-engine turboprop was flying to Toronto from Moncton and Saint John, N.B., when the gunman took over.

Annexation Discussed by Board

The Hope City Board of Directors at its regularly scheduled meeting last night discussed annexation of an area north of the present city limits to include Highway 4 and Highway 29 interchanges on Interstate 30 and extend North of Interstate 30 a short distance. An ordinance will be prepared to be passed on by the Board at its next meeting.

The area will also be outlined on an aerial photo so that the area can be clearly determined. It was pointed out that most of the houses in this area already have city water and all have electricity, but if annexed will get reduced electricity rates. They will also be provided with Police and Fire protection, garbage collection and mosquito control. In most cases a reduction in Fire Insurance rates.

A motion was made and passed that a small delegation be sent to talk to Ward Goodman, Arkansas State Highway Director, about access road, from Interstate 30 to Hope. It is hoped that this meeting can be held before September 24th which is the next Board meeting.

French Plane Crashes, 95 Are Killed

NICE, France (AP) — An Air France Caravelle jet liner crashed into the Mediterranean Sea today killing all 95 persons aboard, including Gen. Rene Cogny, who commanded French troops in North Vietnam at the time Dien Bien Phu fell, the airline said.

The plane, just recently put into service, was on a flight from Ajaccio, Corsica, to Nice, on the Riviera. Shortly before the crash, the pilot messaged: "Fire aboard!"
